“ Chris and I could share WI humor and some things only the cheeseheads would understand. And how the cheese curds (that know one here even knows what they are lol, and we would laugh about that) must always be squeaky. We talked about racing and WI life. We talked about his grandkids, my daughter and that long drive back and forth. I laugh cause your grumpy demeanor at times was so WI lmao! Also whose going to help me fix my phone and set up all the tech stuff that it never helps with. RIP Chris to his family left behind may you find peace!

“ Chris' pride and joy were his children; his eyes would glow and a big smile will be painted on his face each time he talked about them. In the professional aspect he was extremely knowledgeable and always willing to help. There were no secrets with Chris; he would make sure to share his thoughts on any particular matter. I will truly miss the occasional call or message asking: "Boss, have you found a job for me yet?" May your beautiful soul rest in eternal peace and your loved ones are given the strength and temperance to endure the loss of you.

“ I've know Chris for a couple decades. We've lost touch over the last 13 years, but so many memories made back in the day. Racing, snowmobile trips, the Mall of America, Rumors bar, marlin hunting (fishing), camping trips, Rocs Place. Too many great times to list. You will be missed by many. So sorry for his family and close friends. RIP Chris.
